

Transition after Early Intervention Services

- In order to qualify for Early Intervention Services (EI), children must be between birth to three years of age and have delays in any of the following areas:
 - 25% or more delay in one or more area of development:
 - Physical Development
 - Speech and Language Development
 - Social and Emotional Development
 - Adaptive Development
 - Cognitive Development
 - A specialist's determination that there is a delay not measured by available assessments, which results in functional limitations in activity
 - Known physical or mental conditions which have a high probability of developmental delay

- Upon the child's third birthday, EI will conduct a re-evaluation to determine whether the child still exhibits a delay.
 - If there is no evidence of delay, the service will end.
 - If any delay exists, for children between ages 3-6, services will be transferred to the Chester County Intermediate Unit.
 - If applicable, intake can possibly be initiated through the Department of Mental Health/Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities (MH/IDD). Please see Eligibility Tip Sheet.
